

Atlanta

June 4, 1914

O. E.

Mr. J. L. Beavers,
Chief of Police,
City.

Dear Sir:

Referring to talk with you today in front of our office, we understand from said talk that your conclusion is that those who have quit our employ, about two weeks ago, - that is, gone out on a strike, could reasonably be expected to be around here, but not in such numbers as to create a nuisance. Those who have not been in our employ recently and pointed out to you as regular attendants around our premises, you will take active steps to disperse.

Such interpretation, it seems to us, ought to get rid of most of the hangers-on with very little trouble, and we would appreciate your giving the matter this direction.

Yours truly,

FULTON BAG & COTTON MILLS

Prest.

P. S. Since writing the above we want to extend our thanks for your telephone message that you are going to let two mounted men serve here from six o'clock in the morning. We hope this will help the situation materially.