Wednesday, June 10th, 1914. Report of Opr's. J.W.W. & A.E.W. #10.

FULTON BAG & COTTON MILLS.

We called up Mr. Myers at 9:00 A.M., and as we thought it best not to go to the office, Mr. Myers informed us that we had better leave town, as soon as possible. We had to move carefully to get our baggage, and get out of town without being picked up, as we got good information that the Detective Department had called at the hotel, and some of them had called at the Electric Supply Houses, with samples of wire, to find out whether they had sold any wire of that kind, and how long since, and to whom they had sold it, but they received no information that we know of.

We thought that Marietta was too close for our good health, so we continued our journey to Cartersville, Ga. We notified Mr. Myers where we were, and we are awaiting instructions here.
